

November, 2015

Canada and Climate Change

A look at the COP 21 climate change conference in Paris, including Canadian perspectives and approaches.

Read the series

Emissions proposals from the top 10 emitters: A look behind the numbers

Summary and analysis of nationally determined commitments from the top 10 emitters in the world, including Canada.

Read More

COP21: A Beginner's Guide

What is COP? What are the main climate finance mechanisms and Canada's contributions to global climate finance? Norhan Awadallah, Shannon Kindornay and Aniket Bhushan offer a primer on the

CIDP Data:

Foreign Aid

Trade

Investment

Migration

Development Analysis

WHAT WE READ

The Way Forward

by Chris Ragan, Chair,
Canada's Ecofiscal Commission

A report summary of adopting carbon pricing policies across provinces in Canada.

Read this Piece

Paris climate change conference.

Read More

What to Look For During the Paris Climate Change Conference

Melissa Harris, Frédéric Gagnon-Lebrun, Alice Bisiaux of the International Institute for Sustainable Development on what to look for at COP21 in Paris.

Read More

The "Canadian Approach" to COP21

Purbita Sengupta unpacks Canada's approach to COP21 with a review of federal and provincial track records on climate change.

Read More

Natural Disasters and Canada's Humanitarian Relief Allocations

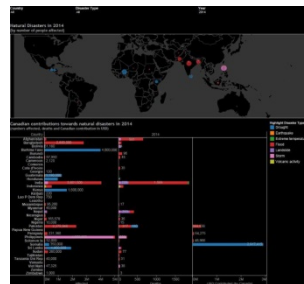

How needs-based is Canada's humanitarian assistance? Kateryna Sherysheva reports on the results of a quantitative study looking at factors driving humanitarian assistance from Canada.

Read More

Interact with the Data

Interactive data on natural disasters (1999 - 2014), by numbers of people affected, deaths, and Canada's humanitarian relief allocations.

Explore the Data

EU countries diverting overseas aid to cover refugee bills, report says

by Georgi Gotev

A report published by Concord, documents an emerging trend among EU member states to divert aid budgets towards the refugee crisis.

Read this Piece

THE GLOBAL GOALS For Sustainable Development

The SDGs Should Stand for Senseless, Dreamy, Garbled

by William Easterly

A critique of the Sustainable Development Goals adopted by the UN in September 2015.

Read this piece

Stay Connected

Follow us on twitter

Like us on Facebook

EVENT

On November 5, 2015, CIDP held a policy roundtable at the Norman Paterson School of International Affairs to discuss the development agenda in light of the new incoming government in Canada.

cidpnsi.ca

Contact Us:

Email: cidp@outlook.com
Aniket Bhushan | aniket.bhusan@carleton.ca
5306 River Building
1125 Colonel By Drive
Ottawa, K1S 5B6

Subscribe